A Centennial Milestone

Rededicating

THE CORNERSTONE

MONDAY, JULY 6, 2015

11 A.M.
TROTH YEDDHA’ PARK
A celebration and blessing on the future site of the indigenous studies center, a welcoming place for all people where scholarship will focus on indigenous knowledge, art and culture.

12 P.M.
PROCESSION DOWN YUKON DRIVE
A ceremonial procession from Troth Yeddha’ Park to Cornerstone Plaza. Enjoy conversation with fellow university supporters and light appetizers in the Regents’ Great Hall.

1 P.M.
CORNERSTONE REDEDICATION
A commemoration of our rich history and a welcome to our next century. We’ll re-enact historic speeches and hear from today’s leaders before rededicating the cornerstone near its original location on campus, where it will embody this institution’s role as a cornerstone for the state of Alaska.
