Neal Conan and Ken Rudin
Friday, July 11, 7 p.m.
Wood Center Ballroom

The Political Junkie comes to Fairbanks! With the 2014 election season well under way, the Political Junkie Road Show will feature an in-depth analysis of the key races in Alaska and across the country from a panel of experts, plus many Political Junkie trademark features: trivia quizzes, Ken's infamous Scuttle Button puzzles and the unique chemistry between Neal and Ken that made the Political Junkie such a hit.

Ken Rudin is an American radio journalist, and was political editor for National Public Radio. Rudin co-hosted a weekly podcast called It's All Politics; he also co-hosted the “Political Junkie” segment on NPR's Talk of the Nation, and wrote a column of the same name for npr.org.

Award winning journalist Neal Conan was the final host of Talk of the Nation. Conan also served as editor, producer, and executive producer of NPR's flagship evening newsmagazine, All Things Considered and, at various times, acted as NPR's foreign editor, managing editor, and news director.
