At Interior-Aleutians Campus, we are committed to walking with you on your higher education journey. We are here to help. Our student services staff is just an e-mail or phone call away, whether you need assistance in finding financial aid, resolving computer problems or need help in your math class. Our full-time distance math and English tutors can help you, no matter where you live in Alaska. We understand the rural and Native Alaskan lifestyle. Our courses are culturally relevant and take into consideration subsistence and other seasonal activities. No matter your goal, the staff and faculty at I-AC are here to serve you.

The University of Alaska Fairbanks is an equal opportunity employer and educational institution.
You Don’t Need to Leave Your Community to Earn a University Certificate or Degree

The Interior-Aleutians Campus is one of five rural campuses within the College of Rural and Community Development at UAF. I-AC delivers educational opportunities to Alaskans who live in the Interior and Aleutian–Pribilof Island regions. Whether you want to take classes that count towards a degree or learn some new skills, our faculty and staff will work with you to help you meet your educational goals. Each of our programs is available to you in a format that allows you to earn a certificate or associate’s degree while remaining in your home community. Our students can choose to take classes taught in their community, audio conference and online classes, intensive format classes where you complete a class in one to three weeks and blended course delivery. No matter your educational goal, I-AC’s faculty and staff are here to serve you.
