At UAF, we acknowledge the Alaska Native nations upon whose traditional lands our six campuses reside. Here in Fairbanks, our Troth Yeddha' Campus is located on the traditional lands of the Dena' Athabascan people of the Tanana River.

Study & Tutoring Resources:

Are you a first-year student living in the residence halls?

Check out the Peer Mentor Tutors within the Moore & Bartlett Complex. Contact a peer mentor for study hall and tutoring hours, or to make an appointment, visit: <https://uaf.edu/reslife/peer-mentor.php>.

Student Support Services -- Are you a first-generation college student, have limited income or are you a student with a documented disability?

If you answered yes to any of the above and enrolled in a UAF bachelor's program, you likely qualify for Student Support Services (SSS). Students enrolled in the program are provided tutoring, technology checkout, comprehensive advising, free printing, study space, and more. Visit uaf.edu/sss/ or request more information to learn more about this free program.

Are you an Alaska Native student, or are you from a rural Alaska community?

Visit Rural Student Services for tutoring and study groups. For information, contact RSS at 474-7871, <https://www.uaf.edu/ruralss/tutoring-services/index.php> or Email uaf-rss@alaska.edu or visit RSS on the 2nd floor (ground floor) of the Brooks Building.

Online homework help

The Alaska State Library grant provides UAF students Live Homework Help online at sled.alaska.edu/homework. Tutorial support is available for introductory college-level courses from 1 pm to midnight seven days a week. The Skills Center provides tutorials, study guides, and more. Available 24/7 at lhh.tutor.com/Resources/SubTopic.aspx?.

Do you need help with research basics?

Ask research questions at library.uaf.edu/reference, or request an individual research consultation at library.uaf.edu/research-consultation-appointment. The library also offers research consultation <https://library.uaf.edu/research-consultation-appointment>.
