

Vegetables 2007

by Grant Matheke, Pat Holloway, Jan Hanscom, Etta Gardiner and Allison Peterson

The vegetable trials are an evaluation of new and standard cultivars from commercial seed companies. We also display the All American Selection winners including the most recent selections that will be available in 2007. Look for the special AAS labels in the garden. Three trials for 2007 include the effect of Kozy Coats® and Wall of Water® cloches on early season frost protection of 'Prairie Fire' Tomato; flower development on daylength sensitive winter squash pretreated with artificial dark treatment as seedlings in the greenhouse; and feasibility of growing and maturing coriander seed. Cool season vegetables were planted as direct seed or greenhouse-grown transplants the last two weeks of May. Warm season vegetables except for the tomato experiment were planted as greenhouse-grown transplants after June 1. No endorsement of firms mentioned is intended nor is criticism implied of those not mentioned.
