

All Publications for Megan McPhee

M. V. McPhee, D. L. G. Noakes and F. W. Allendorf. 2012. Developmental rate: A unifying mechanism for sympatric divergence in postglacial fishes? Current Zoology. 58(1):21-34.

McPhee, MV, DLG Noakes, and FW Allendorf. 2012. Developmental rate: a unifying mechanism for sympatric divergence in postglacial fishes? Current Zoology. 58:21-34.

McPhee, MV, MS Zimmerman, TD Beacham, BR Beckman, JB Olsen, LW Seeb, and WD Templin. 2009. A hierarchical framework to identify influences on Pacific salmon population abundance and structure in the Arctic-Yukon-Kuskokwim region. American Fisheries Society Symposium. 70:1177-1198.

Utter, FM, MV McPhee, and FW Allendorf. 2009. The role of population genetics in the management of Arctic-Yukon-Kuskokwim salmon populations. American Fisheries Society Symposium. 70:97-123.

Stephenson, JJ, MR Campbell, JE Hess, C Kozfkay, AP Matala, MV McPhee, P Moran, SR Narum, MM Paquin, O Schlei, MP Small, DM Van Doornik, and JK Wenburg. 2009. A centralized model for creating shared, standardized, microsatellite data that simplifies inter-laboratory collaboration. Conservation Genetics. 10:1145-1149.

Turner TF, TE Dowling, MV McPhee, C Secor, RE Broughton, and JR Gold. 2009. Polymorphic microsatellite primers for the endangered sucker, Xyrauchen texanus (Catostomidae), are useful for hybridization studies of other catostomids. Conservation Genetics. 10:551-553.

McPhee, MV and TF Turner. 2009. Genealogical diversity suggests multiple introductions of white sucker (Catostomus commersonii) into the Rio Grande, New Mexico. Southwestern Naturalist. 54:485-492..

MV McPhee, TH Tappenbeck, DC Whited, and JA Stanford. 2009. Genetic diversity and population structure in the Kuskokwim River drainage support the 'recurrent evolution' hypothesis for sockeye salmon life histories. Transactions of the American Fisheries Society. 138:1481-1489.

McPhee, MV, MJ Osborne, and TF Turner. 2008. Genetic diversity, population structure and demographic history of the Rio Grande sucker, Catostomus (Pantosteus) plebeius, in New Mexico. Copeia 2008. 2008:191-199.

McPhee, MV. 2008. Ask the experts: how do spawning fish navigate back to the very same stream where they were born? Scientific American. 299:122.

McPhee, MV. 2008. Ask the experts: how do the same fish end up in separate lakes? Scientific American. 299:91.

Kanda, N, M Goto, H Kato, MV McPhee, and LA Pastene. 2007. Population genetic structure of Bryde's whales (Balaenoptera brydei) at the international oceanic and trans-equatorial levels. Conservation Genetics. 8:853-864.

McPhee, MV, F Utter, JA Stanford, KV Kuzishchin, KA Savvaitova, DS Pavlov, and FW Allendorf. 2007. Population structure and partial anadromy in Oncorhynchus mykiss from Kamchatka: relevance for conservation strategies around the Pacific Rim. Ecology of Freshwater Fish. 16:539-547.

McPhee, MV. 2007. Age, growth and life history comparisons between the native Rio Grande sucker (Catostomus plebeius) and the invasive white sucker (Catostomus commersoni) in the Rio Grande, New Mexico. Southwestern Naturalist . 52:15-25.

Moyer, GM, TF Turner, MV McPhee, and KO Winemiller. 2005. Historical demography, selection, and coalescence of mitochondrial and nuclear genes in Prochilodus species of northern South America. Evolution. 59:599-610.

McPhee, MV and TF Turner. 2004. No genetic evidence for hybridization between Rio Grande sucker, Catostomus plebeius, and the introduced white sucker, Catostomus commersoni, in the Upper Rio Grande of New Mexico. Environmental Biology of Fishes. 71:85-93.

Turner, TF, MV McPhee, P Campbell, and KO Winemiller. 2004. Phylogeography and intraspecific genetic variation of prochilodontid fishes (Characiformes) endemic to rivers of northern South America. Journal of Fish Biology. 64:186-201.

Turner, TF, MV McPhee, D Alò, and WH Brandenburg. 2003. Determination of occurrence of hybridization of San Juan River razorback sucker through genetic screening of larval fishes. Report to the Bureau of Reclamation, Albuquerque, NM.

McPhee, MV. 2003. Population genetic structure and diversity in populations of Rio Grande sucker (Catostomus plebeius) in three neighboring streams on the Ladder Ranch, Sierra County, New Mexico. Report to Turner Ranch Properties, LLC.

McPhee, MV and TP Quinn. 1998. Factors affecting the duration of nest defense and reproductive lifespan of female sockeye salmon, Oncorhynchus nerka. Environmental Biology of Fishes. 51:369-375.

Quinn, TP and MV McPhee. 1998. Effects of senescence and density on the aggression of adult female sockeye salmon. Journal of Fish Biology. 52:1295-1300.
