

For News and Announcements, Chukchi Campus

August 3-5, 2022

Traditional Net-Making Class

Using traditional techniques, instructor Auggie Nelson Sr. demonstrated how to create a fishing net using twine, spools, and other materials. Students in class were supported in their pursuit of sustainable food sovereignty by learning how to make their own net, and how to use it, through the skill and stories of their instructor. There was also discussion regarding employment opportunities when working with nets, and potential for small business operation.

