AEROSPACE OPPORTUNITIES IN ALASKA AND THE ARCTIC

A panel of experts chaired by

Bob McCoy

Director, Geophysical Institute, UAF

Thursday, May 11, Rm. 501 Akasofu Bldg., UAF

*Run in conjunction with the Opportunities in the Arctic:
Geophysical Research session. Workshop includes:*

8:30 a.m. Coffee Social

9–10 a.m. Aerospace Panel

10–11 a.m. Geophysical Panel

This is an exciting time for aerospace development and experimentation in Alaska. Learn how you can partner and benefit from: two rocket ranges, a non-federal U.S. spaceport, the ability to downlink data from polar orbiting satellites, unmanned aircraft testing and experimentation, and international experimentation in the upper atmosphere and ionosphere.
