

CHASING STEVE

a mystery in the night sky

Aurorasaurus is here! Join us:

Film Screening: Chasing STEVE

March 4, 4–5 p.m., Murie Auditorium, UAF

Chasing STEVE is a short documentary about a group of passionate night sky photographers who stumbled on a celestial phenomenon not formerly studied by scientists. Aurorasaurus and citizen scientists published the first work identifying STEVE, or Strong Thermal Emission Velocity Enhancement, which has touched many lives via citizen science and captured the global scientific community's attention.
