

American Red Cross MAPATHON

Map Delta Junction by tracing satellite images!

March 8th, 9:00am - 4:00pm

Decision Theater North
010 West Ridge Research Building
University of Alaska Fairbanks

- + The American Red Cross in Fairbanks and the Humanitarian OpenStreetMap Team (HOT) are conducting a mapathon to update spatial data in Delta Junction in a format compatible with 911 computer-assisted dispatch.
- + Learn how to use OpenStreetMap. Contribute your skills and knowledge to a global open data mapping community.
- + Collaborate with HOT to apply the principles of open source and open data sharing for humanitarian response and economic development.
- + Help create relevant mapping information for the census area of Delta Junction, AK which will be used for Disaster Assessment and Disaster Relief Operations.
- + With your help, responders will have access to a common-operating picture to community directions and addresses to arrive on-scene more quickly to perform their life-saving duties.
- + OpenStreetMap mapping specialists will be present both in person and virtually.

- + Drop in and out during the day
- + LUNCH will be provided!
- + BYOD - Bring Your Own Device if possible
- + Directions:
www.dtn.alaska.edu/location

Please RSVP via the QR code or the following link:

<https://goo.gl/forms/pwQ2RyBOpql2PLoE2>

American Red Cross

DECISION THEATER NORTH

Geographic Information
Network of Alaska

Humanitarian
OpenStreetMap
Team

