

ARE YOU ...

A UA grad student, post-doc or early career scientist?
A woman in science looking to improve your leadership skills, or a friend and ally of women in science who wants to help your colleagues achieve their best?

LEADERSHIP WORKSHOP

FOR

EARLY CAREER WOMEN IN SCIENCE

AUGUST 24-25, 2017

If so, join us August 24-25
at UAF to combine the expertise of women in leadership at UA with elements that workshop
organizer Joanna Young (right) learned at Homeward Bound, a 3-week leadership program in Antarctica for women in science.

GOALS

- ▶ Help you build skills to lead expeditions, science outreach & education activities or resource management & policy discussions
- ▶ Build a network among early career female scientists at UA and supporters

TOPICS

- ▶ Challenges and opportunities for women in leadership and STEM
- ▶ Identifying personal drivers
- ▶ Creating inclusive workplaces
- ▶ Mentorship and networking

Free registration and limited travel support
Learn more and apply!
<http://bit.ly/2qLo1QK>
REGISTER BY JUNE 2

SPONSORED BY THE
ALASKA CLIMATE SCIENCE CENTER
CSC.ALASKA.EDU

Participants and faculty of Homeward Bound 2016 in Antarctica.