The Office of Grants and Contracts Administration (OGCA) is pleased to welcome The National Science Foundation (NSF), Program Officer, Computer Information Sciences and Engineering (CISE) Directorate, Dr. Allyson Kennedy, who will be with us live via Zoom Wednesday, June 2, 2021.

The mission of the Directorate for Computer and Information Science and Engineering (CISE) is to enable the U.S. to uphold its leadership in computing, communications, and information science and engineering; promote understanding of the principles and uses of advanced computing, communications, and information systems in service to society; support advanced cyberinfrastructure that enables and accelerates discovery and innovation across all science and engineering disciplines; and contribute to universal, transparent, and affordable participation in an information-based society.

CISE supports investigator-initiated research and education in all areas of computer and information science and engineering, fosters broad interdisciplinary collaboration, helps develop and maintain cutting-edge national cyberinfrastructure for research and education, and contributes to the development of a computer and information technology workforce with skills necessary for success in the increasingly competitive global market. Participants may join via zoom to learn about opportunities within the CISE.

Audience:
Faculty, post-docs, staff and students

Additional Note:
This and other OGCA G-CReATE sessions can each be counted as 1.0 credit hour for the renewal of a CRA, CPRA, or CFRA certification. Participants are responsible for tracking their credit hours.
