RAHI Students Make Good Choices

Denise Wartes, Program Coordinator

Students from the Rural Alaska Honors Institute (RAHI) have made the choice this summer to go to college. They earned between seven and eleven credits at UAF, giving them a headstart on college. The University of Alaska Fairbanks Rural Alaska Honors Institute honored the accomplishments of 63 RAHI students at a graduation ceremony with a public reception following in the Great Hall.

Mique'l Askren, RAHI 1998 alum from Metlakatla, Alaska, was the keynote speaker. Mique'l received her Bachelor of Art History degree from the University of Washington, her Masters in Art History from the University of British Columbia, and will soon receive her Ph.D. in Art History from the University of British Columbia.

The RAHI program is aimed at rural and Alaska Native students who have completed their junior or senior year of high school with at least a 3.0 grade point average. Proposed in 1982 by the Alaska Federation of Natives and the University of Alaska, RAHI emphasizes a challenging university curriculum and a residential program to acquaint students with college life and expectations.

"We attempt to build a supportive community in which students participate in a rich academic setting, build a university transcript, and develop a long-term supportive network with peers, staff and instructors," said Denise Wartes, program manager.

The RAHI curriculum includes university courses funded in part by New York Life, Alyeska Pipeline Service Company, Wells Fargo, Future Educators of Alaska, Boeing, Rasmuson Foundation, the National Institutes of Health Alaska InBre and BioPrep programs, and the National Science Foundation's EPSCoR program. RAHI is sponsored by UAF's College of Rural and Community Development.
