

Thinking about a Masters degree? Take a Class in Fall 2015!*

UAF School of Education Graduate Classes

ED F682 Rethinking Multicultural Education On Campus/Video or Audio (Wednesdays 5:15 - 8:15 PM)

Instructor: Sean Topkok

Course focus: Critically analyze current multicultural education issues. Apply the result of that analysis to local classrooms, school districts, and communities. Topics include: children of immigrants, Alaska Native education, social justice education, exploring ways to create stronger family-community-school partnerships.

ED F630 Curriculum Development Online

Instructor: Anne Armstrong

Course focus: Explore and debate the current composite of educational curriculum within our state, nationally and internationally. Emphasis is placed on the realities of urban and rural Alaska schools, including the relationship of curriculum design to specific learning experiences.

ED F650 Current Topics in Educational Technology: Innovative Instruction and Leadership Online

Instructor: John Monahan

Course focus: Study professional and personal technology based topics relevant to various career fields in education, with an emphasis on current events, emerging technologies and ethical considerations. Readings, research papers, and discussions lead to the development of an instructionally oriented technology proposal that includes an implementation plan and formal presentation

ED F659 Multimedia Tools for Educators On Campus or Online/Video (Thursdays 5:15 - 8:15 PM)

Instructor: Don Peterson

Course focus: Emerging technologies and software applications in education. The use of multimedia in designing teaching and learning experiences will be emphasized. Students will develop a multimedia classroom presentation and will demonstrate knowledge of Internet resources.

ED F612 Foundations of Education On Campus/Video Conference (Wednesday 5:15 - 8:15 PM)

Instructor: Maureen Hogan

Course focus: Explore the interplay between cultural processes and various philosophical positions adopted by educators in the design and practice of pedagogy, learn the history of public school education in the U.S. and Alaska and analyze the policies affecting public school education today

ED F655 Online Pedagogy Online

Instructor: Owen Guthrie

Course focus: A study of theory, tools and methods for teaching online courses. Topics include prominent learning theories, affordance of new technologies, strategies for assessment and techniques for classroom management in an online environment. Students will develop and articulate a personal philosophy of teaching and learning appropriate for the 21st Century.

Register: <http://www.uaf.edu/register/>
Classes meet September 3 - December 19, 2015

Apply for admission: <http://www.uaf.edu/admissions/apply/>
*Admission to a degree program is not required to take a class. Register as a non-degree seeking student this fall and use the class in your degree after admission!

About UAF M. Ed. Programs: www.uaf.edu/educ

Questions: jmmonahan@alaska.edu, 907-474-5362

The University of Alaska Fairbanks is accredited by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities. UAF is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer and educational institution. 10/201