Yes

It is the same course, just a better description. No impact for the library.

Positive impact since it reflects consensus among ECE faculty and will eventually eliminate the use of ECE 127 for the degree.

JUSTIFICATION FOR ACTION REQUESTED

The purpose of the department and campus-wide curriculum committees is to scrutinize course change and new course applications to make sure that the quality of UAF education is not lowered as a result of the proposed change. Please address this in your response. This section needs to be self-explanatory. If you ask for a change in # of credits, explain why; are you increasing the amount of material covered in the class? If you drop a prerequisite, is it because the material is covered elsewhere? If course is changing to stacked (400/600), explain higher level of effort and performance required on part of students earning graduate credit. Use as much space as needed to fully justify the proposed change and explain what has been done to ensure that the quality of the course is not compromised as a result.

In short, these changes reduce confusion for students and clarify courses across campuses. They will save time and take less room in the catalog while maintaining the high standards of the program.

The revisions to the program reflect philosophical changes discussed extensively amongst the ECE faculty across campuses and 2 MAUS to develop a cohesive program with measurable outcomes for students. These changes provide unity across campuses, and ensure integrity of program content, consistent with national professional standards for ECE AAS degree granting programs.

Significant efforts are being made to link assessment and student learning outcomes with program standards and curriculum. Courses have individual outcomes identified and linked to course assessment, as well as program standards. The program outcomes are anchored by the capstone practicum course. Program assessment will be documented in multiple ways, including student portfolios.

These changes make it easier for students to understand and more accurately, but briefly, describes the course. It reflects unity across all campuses with ECE faculty at UAF and UAS. The changed number matches the UAS system requirements. Course offerings are being increased so it will likely be offered every semester, instead of just in the fall, but we prefer not to say that in the catalog, since it is a statewide program and courses are offered on different schedules in different locations.

SYLLABUS CHECKLIST FOR ALL UAF COURSES

During the first week of class, instructors will distribute a course syllabus. Although modifications may be made throughout the semester, this document will contain the following information (as applicable to the discipline):

1. Course information:

Title, number, credits, prerequisites, location, meeting time (make sure that contact hours are in line with credits).

2. Instructor (and if applicable, Teaching Assistant) information:

Name, office location, office hours, telephone, email address.

3. Course readings/materials:

Course textbook title, author, edition/publisher.
 Supplementary readings (indicate whether required or recommended) and any supplies required.

4. Course description:

Content of the course and how it fits into the broader curriculum;
 Expected proficiencies required to undertake the course, if applicable.
 Inclusion of catalog description is strongly recommended, and
 Description in syllabus must be consistent with catalog course description.

5. Course Goals (general), and (see #6)

6. Student Learning Outcomes (more specific)

7. Instructional methods:

Describe the teaching techniques (eg: lecture, case study, small group discussion, private instruction, studio instruction, values clarification, games, journal writing, use of Blackboard, audio/video conferencing, etc.).

8. Course calendar:

A schedule of class topics and assignments must be included. Be specific so that it is clear that the instructor has thought this through and will not be making it up on the fly (e.g. it is not adequate to say "lab". Instead, give each lab a title that describes its content). You may call the outline Tentative or Work in Progress to allow for modifications during the semester.

9. Course policies:

Specify course rules, including your policies on attendance, tardiness, class participation, make-up exams, and plagiarism/academic integrity.

10. Evaluation:

Specify how students will be evaluated, what factors will be included, their relative value, and how they will be tabulated into grades (on a curve, absolute scores, etc.)

11. Support Services:

Describe the student support services such as tutoring (local and/or regional) appropriate for the course.

12. Disabilities Services:

The Office of Disability Services implements the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), and insures that UAF students have equal access to the campus and course materials.

State that you will work with the Office of Disabilities Services (208 WHIT, 474-5655) to provide reasonable accommodation to students with disabilities."

Course Goal: To establish basic principles of curriculum development and implementation including developmentally appropriate practices, as identified by the national professional association. Language and literacy are used as subject for practicing these methods.

Course Description:

Methods of creating and facilitating individually and culturally appropriate curriculum for young children. Establishing integrated, meaningful and relevant experiences applied to the area of language and literacy. Includes a balance of individual and small group experiences, child centered curriculum and teacher-directed times, as well as transitions. Focus on emergent curriculum, active learning and play. The use of local materials and resources is incorporated. Labs required (2.5+1)

Required Texts:

Developmentally Appropriate Practice By Bredekamp & Copple; published by naeyc, third edition; ISBN978-1-928896-64-7

Peak With Books by Marjorie R. Nelson and Jan Nelsen-Parish

Published by Thomson/Delmar Learning, current edition; ISBN: 0-7668-5948-7

Supplemental reading: Will be supplied in class through handouts and internet links

Supplies: Students are encouraged to get a large binder to maintain handouts and assignments. Would you prefer electronic access? How do you share materials with families - hard copy or electronic?

Student Support Services:

I encourage you to work with the CTC support services in the learning lab on the first floor of this building. They have posted hours and tutors available who are very accessible and helpful. In addition, the writing Center (8th floor, Gruening, 474-5314) and the Math Lab (305 Chapman), both provide excellent advice, tutoring and assistance. Many students also find the Office of Student Support Services (508 Gruening, 474-6844) helpful.

Disabilities Services:

The Office of Disability Services implements the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), and insures that UAF students have equal access to the campus and course materials. I work with the Office of Disabilities Services (203 WHIT, 474-7043) to provide reasonable accommodation to students with disabilities. Representatives from the office also regularly meet students in the TVCC building. Check with the TVCC student services for more information, 455-2851 or 2849.

Special Needs: If you need accommodation for special needs, please see the instructor as early in the course as possible. Students with special needs are required to provide the necessary paperwork from the office of disability services so I know the best way to make accommodation.

Organizational Overview within the Broader Curriculum: This course is required in the ECE certificate, AAS and CDEV BA programs. It provides foundational information about environments. It is recommended full time students take this course in the first year of study. The student learning outcomes for our entire program are based on the 2009 national standards for ECE AAS programs. This course is primarily involved with Standard #1 - Supporting Child Development & Learning and Standard #4 - Using Developmentally Effective Approaches to Connect with Children and Families

Outcomes: Each standard identifies key components, which are used to determine our student learning outcomes. A student learning outcome (SLO) is what you should "know and be able to do" by the end of the course. For this course the SLO are as follows:

- 1.1 Students can identify children's individual development in the various domains and anticipating emerging development, as demonstrated through language and literacy.
- 1.2 Students recognize multiple influences on development and children's individual characteristics and apply this knowledge to support the needs of each child.
- 1.3 Students refer to and incorporate guiding principles of child development when working with children and families, especially related to curriculum.
- 4.1 Students establish a positive, authentic relationship with each child as the foundation for their work with children.
- 4.2 Students demonstrate effective strategies and the use of equipment, materials and other tools for early childhood education, specific to course content.
- 4.3 Students reflect on their own practice to promote positive outcomes for each child.

Evaluation: The assignments will be related to the outcomes. Through participation, papers, projects, presentations and labs with children, by the end of the course the student will have demonstrated competence in each of the six outcomes identified earlier. It is good practice in all courses to always keep your graded assignments, at least until you receive the final grade for the course.

	Points	Approx. Percent
▪ Attendance & participation	25	8%
▪ Reading reflections	25	8%
▪ 2 labs working with children	50	17%
▪ Other homework	150	50%
▪ Project	50	17%
Total:	300	100%

Grade	Definition
A = 100% - 90%	An honor grade. Demonstrates originality, independence, a thorough mastery of the subject; completing more work than is regularly required; on time. Demonstrates a deep understanding, presented with exceptional clarity & poise.
B = 89% - 80%	Better than the average. Above the average expectation. Projects or papers are presented neatly, thoroughly & on time but do not have the depth and originality for an "A".
C = 79% - 70%	Average. The student grasps the essential information; material is complete and presented satisfactorily, ON TIME .
D = 69% - 60%	Below average. Student misses significant aspects of the assignment. Material is not turned in on time; student is unprepared to present project to class.
F = below 60 %	Student was unable to complete the assignments on time with at least a 60% understanding and presentation.

All students majoring in ECE or BA in CDFS must have a C or better in all classes in the major. Unfortunately, a C- is less than a C and does not meet the minimum requirement.

Incomplete "I" grades: The instructor does not intend to give any "incomplete" grades in this course. If an exception is made for extenuating circumstances, the best possible grade would be a C, the student would have to clearly identify each assignment, along with the points at the top of the assignment and would not get graded feedback returned to them.

No basis "NB" grades: Students who cannot complete the course may be awarded a "no basis" grade if there was inadequate participation or advancement to warrant a letter grade.

Withdrawal & drops: Students are expected to withdraw from the class if they cannot complete the course. The instructor will not automatically withdraw students who do not attend or fall behind. Students who do not successfully complete the class and do not withdraw will receive an "F". The instructor appreciates hearing from students who drop or withdraw; your feedback can sometimes make the course better for others.

For late start classes the last day to drop with 100% refund is the first Friday of the course. (A drop does not appear on the student's transcript; withdrawal shows a "W" on record.)

Honor Code:

As a student you are subject to the "student code of conduct". It is found in the UAF catalog which is also available on line. Please follow this code. It is especially important, in all classes, to appropriately cite any sources you use. Several of our students have had trouble with this over the years. Failure to follow the code can cause you to fail a class, be dismissed from the ECE program or be temporarily or permanently expelled from the college.

Participation: "Participation" grades are based on being on time, staying for the whole class, participating in group activities, discussion and small group projects. Side conversations, texting and using computers for non-class activities are distracting for the instructor and the other students; points may be deducted for this type of behavior as well as for non-participation.

Preparation: Students are to be prepared for class. They should have read the material scheduled to be discussed and have completed required assignments prior to the class period. When students come to class unprepared it diminishes the discussion for everyone. However, it is better to come unprepared than not come! Lack of preparation will result in lower participation scores, but not as low of a score as not attending at all!

Late assignments: In an effort to help students keep up with the pace of the class, points will be taken off for late assignments.

Getting Started:

Students should "adopt one program" for doing the labs. Getting to know the children and staff is helpful in preparing your best lessons. Plan to spend time most weeks (on average about 1 hour per week) at your lab site. Bunnell House, the learning lab on campus, is the preferred option as it is designed for this purpose. Call Paige McLaughlin to schedule lab time at Bunnell House 474-6393. Most of the labs require an outside observer to approve plans in advance, and give feedback; it is necessary that this person be qualified to provide professional guidance. Bunnell House has qualified staff, prepared and hired to help ECE students. Your labs may also be completed in other formal EC settings, including where you work, if they can provide qualified support; see the list of community agencies that work with the UAF ECE students. Please request approval in advance for alternate sites.

Attendance: Attendance is essential. Students who miss more than 25% of the class will not receive credit for the class.

Breaks We may have an organized break mid-way through the class students may leave and stretch at other times if they need to. Come prepared to participate the whole class time.
