21. POSITIVE AND NEGATIVE IMPACTS

Please specify positive and negative impacts on other courses, programs and departments resulting from the proposed action.

There are no known negative or positive impacts on other courses, programs and departments.

JUSTIFICATION FOR ACTION REQUESTED

The purpose of the department and campus-wide curriculum committees is to scrutinize course change and new course applications to make sure that the quality of UAF education is not lowered as a result of the proposed change. Please address this in your response. This section needs to be self-explanatory. Use as much space as needed to fully justify the proposed course.

Work force expansion around home visiting and other family support programs has created a demand for enhanced education focusing on family support issues. More and more staff of home visiting and other family support programs are working directly with families. The importance of relationship development as well as strategies for mentoring and guidance is profound. ECE 410 Supporting Family Relationships through mentoring will provide education around the topics of relationship importance and skills for mentoring. Awareness of communication styles and strategies in regards to personality and cultural diversity will be stressed.

ECE 410 has been proposed in response to work force expansion in the area of family support issues. This course will be required within the CDFS Family Support concentration.

The course will be offered through an optional 11-week schedule or traditional 15-week schedule. Working with rural students, the CDFS program has been facilitating classes through a pilot program with an 11-week schedule. With this schedule, classes begin later in fall and end earlier in spring, we have found that this diverse schedule meets the needs of students that participate in subsistence activities during fall and spring, helping them attend classes and complete course work. During the two semesters that this scheduling has been used, there has been lower course drop-rates and higher completion than in other ECE courses that are offered the full length of the semester.

Please address this in your response. This section needs to be self-explanatory. Use as much space as needed to fully justify the proposed course.

The proposed action is in response to early childhood workforce demand and the need for development of additional knowledge and skill within the area of family support

The course will be offered through an optional 11-week schedule or traditional 15-week schedule. Working with rural students, the CDFS program has been facilitating classes through a pilot program on a 11-week schedule. When this schedule is used, classes begin later in fall and end with the semester dates, and begin with the semester schedule in spring and end in early April. This schedule is meeting the needs of students that participate in subsistence activities in the fall and springs, helping them attend all classes, complete course work in a timely manner. Through the two semesters that this schedule has been used, there has been lower drop-out and higher completion rates in the pilot classes.

Disabilities Services:

The Child Development and Family Studies program will work with the Office of Disability Services to provide reasonable accommodation to students with disabilities. Disability Services provide a variety of services to assure equal access for all students. Interpreting services, educational assistants, note taking, and exam accommodations for students are the most frequently provided accommodations.

The Office of Disability Services implements the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), and insures that UAF students have equal access to the campus and course materials. (203 WHIT, 474-7043) I will work with the Office of Disabilities Services to provide reasonable accommodation to students with disabilities.

Disability services also provides assistance to the university's rural campuses; Bristol Bay, Chukchi, Interior-Aleutians, Kuskokwim, and Northwest.

Questions should be directed to the Director of Disability Services at (907)-474-5655.

Computer, Internet and Software

Problem: you cannot get your email Make sure your Internet connection is working; to test it, you can try to go to a new web page and see if it loads.

- If you are having problems with a UAF account, you will need to contact the UAF help desk 1.800.478.4667. If it is another company's account, you will need to contact their customer support. There is very little we can do to assist you as we have no control or access to the computers that serve the email.
- Check with your email program's Help.

Problem: you forgot your password

- Only the organization that issued your password can do anything to change it. You will need to contact them. For UAF email and Blackboard it is the UAF help desk 1.800.478.4667. For most web services there is a link you can click if you forgot your password. I also recommend writing them down somewhere for back up.
