Degree Level: (i.e., Certificate, A.A., A.A.S., B.A., B.S., M.A., M.S., Ph.D.)	BS Degree

A. CHANGE IN DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: (Brief statement of program/degree changes and objectives)

Allow students to take ANTH/LING 223 "Sociolinguistics: Language and Inequality" as one of two choices of language oriented options for the BS major in Anthropology. This would replace LING 101 "Nature of Language" as one of two classes fulfilling the linguistic anthropology subdisciplinary requirement for the major.

D. ESTIMATED IMPACT

WHAT IMPACT, IF ANY, WILL THIS HAVE ON BUDGET, FACILITIES/SPACE, FACULTY, ETC.

This will not have an impact on facilities/space, faculty or budget.

E. IMPACTS ON PROGRAMS/DEPTS:

What programs/departments will be affected by this proposed action?
Include information on the Programs/Departments contacted (e.g., email, memo)

Linguistics, this change was discussed and approved at the linguistics faculty meeting on 12/5/2013.

F. IF MAJOR CHANGE - ASSESSMENT OF THE PROGRAM:

Description of the student learning outcomes assessment process.)

The student learning outcome for BS majors that this change impacts is "1) a basic understanding of the history of the discipline, including subdisciplinary perspectives and approaches." At present, no required course represents the linguistic anthropology subdiscipline. Requiring students to take a linguistic anthropology-specific course will help the department meet this learning outcome.

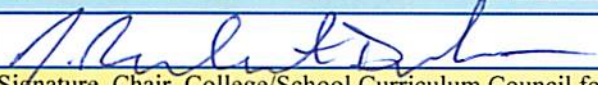

The department is reviewing and revising SLOA, but the plan is that student knowledge of subdisciplines, including linguistic anthropology, will be in part assessed through an exit interview for majors and minors.

JUSTIFICATION FOR ACTION REQUESTED

The purpose of the department and campus-wide curriculum committees is to scrutinize program/degree change applications to make sure that the quality of UAF education is not lowered as a result of the proposed change. Please address this in your response. This section needs to be self-explanatory. If you drop a course, is it because the material is covered elsewhere? Use as much space as needed to fully justify the proposed change and explain what has been done to ensure that the quality of the program is not compromised as a result.

LING 101, "The Nature of Language" is a broad survey course of the subfields of linguistics and it does not provide an in depth of exposure to linguistic anthropology (one of the four subfields of anthropology), which was part of the original intent of requiring a linguistics course for majors (as there was a long period without a tenure track linguistic anthropologist on the faculty). Furthermore, all of the other specific course requirements are for 200-level courses offered in the anthropology department are taught by anthropology faculty, unlike LING F101, creating a disparity in representation of the linguistic anthropology subfield. Given that a course that fulfills the four-field learning outcome is now offered in the Anthropology Department, the curriculum should reflect this.
