number of	credits:	research paper for which students must collect, transcribe and analyze their own media data. Thus the amount of student work is in line with expectations of an upper-division undergraduate class.  The graduate level course shares a similar structure and syllabus with the undergraduate version, but the expectations are higher. The course meets more often and, in addition, graduate students will have additional readings about which they are required to prepare short presentations and create and post annotated bibliographies to add to the collective knowledge of the class. The research paper will be longer, more involved, with higher expectations about the depth of the literature review and use of outside

How will the two course levels differ from each other? How will each be taught at the appropriate level?:  Stacked course applications are reviewed by the (Undergraduate) Curricular Review Committee and by the Graduate Academic and Advising Committee. Creating two different syllabi—undergraduate and graduate versions—will help emphasize the different qualities of what are supposed to be two different courses. The committees will determine: 1) whether the two versions are sufficiently different (i.e. is there undergraduate and graduate level content being offered); 2) are undergraduates being overtaxed?; 3) are graduate students being undertaxed? In this context, the committees are looking out for the interests of the students taking the course. Typically, if either committee has qualms, they both do. This will primarily impact Linguistics and Anthropology, as it will be a new elective for students in each program. Both departments' chairs have signed below.

21. POSITIVE AND NEGATIVE IMPACTS

Please specify positive and negative impacts on other courses, programs and departments resulting from the proposed action.

There is no negative impact. The positive impacts are that the timely nature of the subject matter may pique student interest in taking more linguistics and anthropology courses; it will increase course offerings in linguistic anthropology (currently underrepresented in Anthropology and Linguistics), and provide an additional course that teaches methods integrated with a specialized topic. It also explicitly promotes civic involvement, through exposing students to new ways of engaging and analyzing political media (a focus on form, not content of views).

JUSTIFICATION FOR ACTION REQUESTED

The purpose of the department and campus-wide curriculum committees is to scrutinize course change and new course applications to make sure that the quality of UAF education is not lowered as a result of the proposed change. Please address this in your response. This section needs to be self-explanatory. Use as much space as needed to fully justify the proposed course.

Linguistic anthropology is traditionally a subfield of both anthropology and linguistics. Due to faculty changeover, linguistic anthropology has long been a neglected and underrepresented part of the both the linguistics and anthropology curricula. For example, there is currently only one 600-level linguistic anthropology courses in the catalog (most offerings have been Special Topics; with the exception of ANTH F631, all courses are offered by linguistics faculty and do not contain extensive linguistic anthropology content). There are only two other undergraduate linguistic anthropology courses offered in the anthropology department.

Political Media and Discourses of the American Right

ANTH/LING 435 O 3 credits

Prerequisites: COMM F131x or COMM F141X; ENGL F111x;

ENGL 211x or ENGL 213x.

Recommended: Prior courses in rhetoric, linguistics, anthropology or political science.

Meeting time and location: TBA

Instructor: Dr. Robin Shoaps

Office Hours: TBA or by appointment in Bunnell 305B.

Bring memory stick or laptop to discuss data

Phone: 474-6884

E-mail: rashoaps@alaska.edu

1. Catalog (Short) Description:

This class uses "hands-on" discourse analytic techniques of student-collected media data in order to examine whether or not there is a unified rhetorical style associated with the American Right; the nature of the relationship between a message, its form and persuasion; and how moral stances are taken in political contexts. Evaluation of the veracity, ethical or historical merits of conservative political stances is not part of the scope of the class.

2. Overview:

Talk radio, and increasingly, cable news programming, have provided a vibrant platform for conservative punditry and have played a major role in American political discourse. This course will provide students with a new perspective on the mediated political messages leading up to and in the wake of presidential and local and national midterm elections. In approaching political media from a discourse analytic point of view, the course will expose students to a broad analytic framework that is suitable for approaching all forms of political and public moral discourse. A major focus of the class will be on "hands-on" and workshop style analysis of media data and examination of the specific communicative practices found there. Students will be responsible for collecting and transcribing the media broadcasts that will comprise the material for class analysis and discussion. Larger questions to be considered in the class include whether or not there is a unified rhetorical style associated with the American Right; the nature of the relationship between a message, its form and persuasion; and how moral stances are taken in political contexts.

What this course WILL NOT prioritize:

This class is not a journalism or political science class. While we are concerned with identifying political stances, will not evaluate pundits based on the factuality of their statements nor whether their stances are "right" or "wrong." Your and the instructor's political opinions are irrelevant to analysis. Papers and discussion should not address whether or not you agree with the host. By divorcing ourselves from factual analysis and our political opinions we will be able to learn a new way of listening, one that gives us training to go beyond what a blogger or opinion columnist can write.

Course Goals:

Students will:

- Learn a new framework for "listening" to political media
- Conduct analysis of political media that steps outside of evaluating facts or whether you agree with political platforms
- Recognize and identify the specific rhetorical strategies used by a particular conservative pundit
- Contextualize political media with respect to American conservativism
- Collect data and become an "expert" on the language use of a particular conservative pundit

Student Learning Outcomes:

Upon completion of this course, students should be able to:

- Transcribe discourse data
- Be able to analyze political media with respect to semantic, prosodic and stylistic traits
- Recognize and analyze different units and levels of discourse structure.
- Demonstrate an ability to integrate existing literature into a research project

Instructional Methods:

Regular class time will be divided into 2 formats: In general two days a week will be devoted to lecture and we will discuss the weekly reading assignments and your listening journals. On "lab days" we will discuss data (often provided by a student).

This course is designated as Oral-Intensive (O). ORAL ACTIVITIES IN THIS COURSE WILL FOLLOW THESE RULES:

- A minimum of 15 percent of the graded work will be based on effectiveness of oral communications.
- Students will receive intermediate instructor assistance in developing presentational competency.
- Students will utilize their communication competency across the span of the semester, not just in a final project.
- Students will receive instructor feedback on the success of their efforts at each stage of preparing their presentations.

3. Course Requirements:

Oral Participation:

15% of the course grade is based on your oral participation in data workshops and labs. Oral participation is evaluated on your speaking skills and your abilities to integrate class readings into your commentary and presentation.1

Each student will have multiple opportunities to discuss their data in class<sup>2</sup>:

- 1. Data Workshop Presentation: Each student will do a formal presentation of their data, the week of which he/she is "off the hook" for other assignments (aside from readings). The presentation segment should be chosen for rhetorical characteristics (i.e., not necessarily the first few minutes of a show) and should not include commercials, theme music, etc. Plan to prepare a 3-5 minute segment, to be presented in 20 minutes, with copies of transcripts for class to facilitate the question and answer period. Students are required to bring their data to discuss it with me first.
- 2. Project Presentation: At the end of the semester, each student will present his or her final paper research topic and findings. This presentation will last 20 minutes and provide an opportunity for peer and instructor questions and feedback.<sup>3</sup>
- 3. Moderation: Each student will moderate another student's data workshop presentation (#1). The moderator should meet with the presenter in advance and prepare comments on the data and discussion questions. The moderator will speak for 5 minutes and will lead discussion and moderate Q & A.

All presentations (with the exception of moderation) should have a clear organization involving an introduction, body (data + analysis) and conclusion. You should prepare a handout for the Data Workshop presentation and use a visual aid (handout, Powerpoint, etc.) for your presentation of your Final Project.

Attendance:

Because much of the methodological framework introduced in the course will be presented in lecture and data workshop format (not through readings), regular attendance is very important in acquiring the skills necessary for a successful presentation or paper. Students may miss two class periods without it affecting their attendance grade.

Weekly Assignments:

Each week you are required to hand in either hand in a transcript OR a journal entry (see more below).

Radio, television and internet data collection:

The feedback from peers and instructor on both presentations meets oral requirement "C."

Each student will be assigned a talk radio, vlog or television program to observe to for the duration of the quarter. On alternating weeks, you will be assigned to listen to/watch one hour of your program (it can be in chunks over several days, or from a single broadcast) and keep a journal. I will provide details on my expectations for this journal in class. Similarly, on alternating weeks you will record and transcribe a 3-5 minute segment of your program. Listening journals, transcriptions and sound files should be handed in via the course website on Blackboard (and hard copy) and are due before lab sections.

Final Paper: Details will be given in class, however an outline will be due several weeks before the deadline. Students are required to visit my office hours to discuss their final papers/data during the semester, before the outline is due (see schedule).

Grade Distribution:

Attendance	10%
Oral participation in data workshops (including moderation)	10%
Research presentation	15%
Written Listening/viewing journals and media ethnography	10%
Transcription assignments	20%
Corpus	15%
Final Paper	20%

Grading is based on the following scale:

95-100%	Α
90-94%	A-
86-89%	B+
83-85%	В
80-82%	B-
76-79%	C+
73-75%	C
70-72	C-
66-69	D+
63-65	D
62 and below	F

Grading is not done on a curve. Note that Anthropology and Linguistics students who wish to take this course for part of the requirements for their major must receive a C (2.0) in order for it to count. For more information please see: http://www.uaf.edu/files/uafgov/Info-to-Publicize-C_Grading-Policy-UPDATED-May-2013.pdf

4. University Policies and Resources:

Academic Integrity:

Plagiarism is a form of cheating in which you use anyone else's ideas and/or words (both published or personally communicated) without proper citation of the source. Whether from a printed source, the Internet, a lecture or a friend or family member, you must cite the source properly, if you got the idea from someone else—and this is true even if you are not using the source's exact wording. Be aware of the University's policies on academic dishonesty.

When academic dishonesty is documented on any assignment or exam, you will receive a zero and the matter may be turned over to the Dean of Students for inquiry, with the recommendation of a failing grade in the course.

You should familiarize yourself with the Student Code of Conduct (http://www.uaf.edu/catalog/current/academics/regs3.html#Student_Conduct) and the University statement on Plagiarism (http://library.uaf.edu/ls101-plagiarism).

For information on how to properly cite sources see: http://library.uaf.edu/ls101-citing

Support Services:

Student Support Services are available at UAF: http://www.uaf.edu/sssp/

These services include: free tutorial services; academic advising, mentoring, and personal support; direct financial assistance to qualified low-income participants; use of laptop computers, labs, and other technology resources; and cultural and social engagement. The office is located at 512 Gruening building.

See also http://www.uaf.edu/catalog/catalog_10-11/services/servo1.html

Writing Center:

Students are required to visit the Writing Center (801 Gruening) at least once during the semester:

http://www.alaska.edu/english/studentresources/writing/

You can make an appointment (474-5314) to go over a paper with someone at any stage in the writing process, from rough outline to final draft. You can also print up to 25 pages at a time for free. This is an excellent service to take advantage of at any stage of your student career.

Speaking Center:

Students are required to visit the Speaking Center at least once during the semester and are strongly encouraged to seek assistance before presenting the final paper. The Speaking Center is located in Room 507 in the Gruening Building. Call 474-5470 for Speaking Center hours and to schedule an appointment. Walk-ins are welcome, but it is best to make an appointment.

Disability Services:

The University of Alaska is committed to providing equal access for students with disabilities. If you experience a disability and will need special accommodations, please contact me during my office hours. I will work with the Office of Disabilities Services (208 WHIT, 474-5655) to provide reasonable accommodation to students with disabilities.

5. Policies:

Communication:

Do not expect instant turn-around on emails. I do not check my email frequently on weekends or at night. I would prefer face-to-face interaction and I am passionate about discussing data and readings with you during my office hours or another pre-arranged time—please take advantage of this.

Electronic devices: No cell phones in class. Students should bring laptops on transcription days (to be announced in class) and may bring laptops on workshop and presentation days.

Late assignments

Will be docked half a letter grade for each day late. I do not accept listening/viewing journals or transcription assignments that are more three days late. Handing an assignment in after class counts as late.

Acceptable assignment submission formats:

Do not email electronic copies of assignments to me. Please hand in hard copies of transcriptions and listening journals, in addition to electronic submission under "Discussions" on Blackboard.

I have very specific file naming properties, the importance of which will become evident when it is time to compose the class corpus. I will explain these in class and subtract 10% from your assignment grade for failing to follow formatting and file-naming instructions.

6.Course Materials (Tentative):

Books:

The following required texts are available on reserve at Rasmuson library and at the UAF campus bookstore:

David C. Barker, 2002. Rushed to Judgment: Talk Radio, Persuasion and American Political Behavior. Columbia U Press, ISBN 0-231-11807-4

Chilton, Paul. 2004. Analysing Political Discourse: Theory and Practice, pp. 48-65. Routledge

Thomas Edsall, 2007. Building Red America: The New Conservative Coalition and the Drive for Permanent Power. Basic Books. ISBN 10: 0-465-01816-1

John Mickelthwait and Adrian Woolridge, 2004. The Right Nation: Conservative Power in America. Penguin. ISBN 0-14-303539-8

George Lakoff, 2002. Moral Politics: How Liberals and Conservatives Think. University of Chicago Press. ISBN 0-226-46771-6.

The following books are recommended further reading for those who would like to learn more about conservativism in America and responses to its rise (on reserve, some chapters are assigned and will be on Blackboard):

Diamond, Sara. 1995. Roads to dominion: Right-wing movements and political power in the United States. Guilford.

Pierson, Paul and Skocpol, Theda, eds. 2007. *The Transformation of American Politics:*Activist Government and the Rise of Conservativism. Princeton University Press.

Articles and Book Chapters:

All other readings will be available or, in the case of library resources, linked on Blackboard under "course documents."

Blackboard:

You will hand in your transcripts, journal entries and recorded segments on Blackboard. The course site will also have links to streaming broadcasts, transcription conventions, transcription software, assignment guidelines and the course schedule.

7. Topics, Deadlines and Schedule:

Because the course is really a research team, much of your training will be sensitive to the sorts of issues that arise organically from our data. Thus, I may tailor latter aspects of the syllabus around particular issues that arise. Similarly, depending on how quickly or slowly we make our way through material, some readings may be moved to "recommended" status or lecture topics may be dropped altogether. Please check Blackboard announcements (and your email) for updated syllabi; I will also announce changes in class.

Unless otherwise noted, readings are required.

Topics and readings subject to revision.

1. Catalog (Short) Description:

This class uses "hands-on" discourse analytic techniques of student-collected media data in order to examine whether or not there is a unified rhetorical style associated with the American Right; the nature of the relationship between a message, its form and persuasion; and how moral stances are taken in political contexts. Evaluation of the veracity, ethical or historical merits of conservative political stances is not part of the scope of the class.

2. Overview:

Talk radio, and increasingly, cable news programming, have provided a vibrant platform for conservative punditry and have played a major role in American political discourse. This course will provide students with a new perspective on the mediated political messages leading up to and in the wake of presidential and local and national midterm elections. In approaching political media from a discourse analytic point of view, the course will expose students to a broad analytic framework that is suitable for approaching all forms of political and public moral discourse. A major focus of the class will be on "hands-on" and workshop style analysis of media data and examination of the specific communicative practices found there. Students will be responsible for collecting and transcribing the media broadcasts that will comprise the material for class analysis and discussion. Larger questions to be considered in the class include whether or not there is a unified rhetorical style associated with the American Right; the nature of the relationship between a message, its form and persuasion; and how moral stances are taken in political contexts.

What this course WILL NOT prioritize:

This class is not a journalism or political science class. While we are concerned with identifying political stances, will not evaluate pundits based on the factuality of their statements nor whether their stances are "right" or "wrong." Your and the instructor's political opinions are irrelevant to analysis. Papers and discussion should not address whether or not you agree with the host. By divorcing ourselves from factual analysis and our political opinions we will be able to learn a new way of listening, one that gives us training to go beyond what a blogger or opinion columnist can write.

Course Goals:

Students will:

- Learn a new framework for "listening" to political media
- Conduct analysis of political media that steps outside of evaluating facts or whether you agree with political platforms
- Recognize and identify the specific rhetorical strategies used by a particular conservative pundit
- Contextualize political media with respect to American conservativism
- Collect data and become an "expert" on the language use of a particular conservative pundit

Student Learning Outcomes:

Upon completion of this course, students should be able to:

- Transcribe discourse data
- Be able to analyze political media with respect to semantic, prosodic and stylistic traits
- Recognize and analyze different units and levels of discourse structure.
- Demonstrate an ability to integrate existing literature into a research project

Instructional Methods:

Regular class time will be divided into 3 formats: In general two days a week will be devoted to lecture and we will discuss the weekly reading assignments and your listening journals. On "lab days" we will discuss data (often provided by a student). Every 2 weeks graduate students will meet with the instructor to discuss additional readings.

3. Course Requirements:

Oral Participation:

15% of the course grade is based on your oral participation in data workshops and labs. Oral participation is evaluated on your speaking skills and your abilities to integrate class readings into presentations.

Each student will have multiple opportunities to discuss their data in class:

1. Data Workshop Presentation: Each student will do a formal presentation of their data. The presentation segment should be chosen for rhetorical characteristics (i.e., not necessarily the first few minutes of a show) and should not include commercials, theme music, etc. Plan to prepare a 3-5 minute segment, to be presented in 20 minutes, with copies of transcripts for class to facilitate the question and answer period. Students are required to bring their data to discuss it with me first.

2. Project Presentation: At the end of the semester, each student will present his or her final paper research topic and findings. This presentation will last 20 minutes and provide an opportunity for peer and instructor questions and feedback.

Attendance:

Because much of the methodological framework introduced in the course will be presented in lecture and data workshop format (not through readings), regular attendance is very important in acquiring the skills necessary for a successful presentation or paper. Students may miss two class periods without it affecting their attendance grade.

Weekly Assignments:

Each week you are required to hand in either hand in a transcript OR a journal entry (see more below).

Radio, television and internet data collection:

Each student will be assigned a talk radio, vlog or television program to observe to for the duration of the quarter. On alternating weeks, you will be assigned to listen to/watch one hour of your program (it can be in chunks over several days, or from a single broadcast) and keep a journal. I will provide details on my expectations for this journal in class. Similarly, on alternating weeks you will record and transcribe a 3-5 minute segment of your program. Listening journals, transcriptions and sound files should be handed in via the course website on Blackboard (and hard copy) and are due before lab sections.

Annotated Bibliographies:

For each special graduate student meeting (every other week), each student is required to prepare an annotated bibliography of 3, topically linked, readings that are not required for the class. You will take turns presenting them to the class and will post the papers and your bibliographies on Blackboard so that they can become part of the collective knowledge of the class. Your final paper must draw from these, as well as all assigned materials.

Final Paper: Details will be given in class, however an outline will be due several weeks before the deadline. Students are required to visit my office hours to discuss their final papers/data during the semester, before the outline is due (see schedule).

Grade Distribution:

Annotated Bibliographies	15%
Oral participation in data workshops	15%
Research presentation	15%
Written Listening/viewing journals and media ethnography	10%
Transcription assignments	15%
Corpus	10%
Final Paper	20%

Grading is based on the following scale:

95-100%	Α
90-94%	A-
86-89%	B+
83-85%	В
80-82%	B-
76-79%	C+
73-75%	C
70-72	C-
66-69	D+
63-65	D
62 and below	F

Grading is not done on a curve.

4. University Policies and Resources:

Academic Integrity:

Plagiarism is a form of cheating in which you use anyone else's ideas and/or words (both published or personally communicated) without proper citation of the source. Whether from a printed source, the Internet, a lecture or a friend or family member, you must cite the source properly, if you got the idea from someone else—and this is true even if you are not using the source's exact wording. Be aware of the University's policies on academic dishonesty.

When academic dishonesty is documented on any assignment or exam, you will receive a zero and the matter may be turned over to the Dean of Students for inquiry, with the recommendation of a failing grade in the course.

You should familiarize yourself with the Student Code of Conduct (http://www.uaf.edu/catalog/current/academics/regs3.html#Student_Conduct) and the University statement on Plagiarism (http://library.uaf.edu/ls101-plagiarism).

For information on how to properly cite sources see: http://library.uaf.edu/ls101-citing

Support Services:

Student Support Services are available at UAF: http://www.uaf.edu/sssp/

These services include: free tutorial services; academic advising, mentoring, and personal support; direct financial assistance to qualified low-income participants; use of laptop computers, labs, and other technology resources; and cultural and social engagement. The office is located at 512 Gruening building.

See also http://www.uaf.edu/catalog/catalog_10-11/services/servo1.html

Writing Center:

Graduate students are encouraged to visit the writing center (Gruening 802)

http://www.alaska.edu/english/studentresources/writing/

You can make an appointment (474-5314) to go over a paper with someone at any stage in the writing process, from rough outline to final draft. You can also print up to 25 pages at a time for free. This is an excellent service to take advantage of at any stage of your student career.

Speaking Center:

Graduate students strongly encouraged to seek assistance at the Speaking Center before presenting the final paper. The Speaking Center is located in Room 507 in the Gruening Building. Call 474-5470 for Speaking Center hours and to schedule an appointment. Walk-ins are welcome, but it is best to make an appointment.

Disability Services:

The University of Alaska is committed to providing equal access for students with disabilities. If you experience a disability and will need special accommodations, please contact me during my office hours. I will work with the Office of Disabilities Services (208 WHIT, 474-5655) to provide reasonable accommodation to students with disabilities.

5. Policies:

Communication:

Do not expect instant turn-around on emails. I do not check my email frequently on weekends or at night. I would prefer face-to-face interaction and I am passionate about discussing data and readings with you during my office hours or another pre-arranged time—please take advantage of this.

Electronic devices: No cell phones in class. Students should bring laptops on transcription days (to be announced in class) and may bring laptops on workshop and presentation days.

Late assignments

Will be docked half a letter grade for each day late. I do not accept listening/viewing journals or transcription assignments that are more three days late. Handing an assignment in after class counts as late.

Acceptable assignment submission formats:

Do not email electronic copies of assignments to me. Please hand in hard copies of transcriptions and listening journals, in addition to electronic submission under "Discussions" on Blackboard.

I have very specific file naming properties, the importance of which will become evident when it is time to compose the class corpus. I will explain these in class and subtract 10% from your assignment grade for failing to follow formatting and file-naming instructions.

6.Course Materials (Tentative):

Books:

The following required texts are available on reserve at Rasmuson library and at the UAF campus bookstore:

David C. Barker, 2002. Rushed to Judgment: Talk Radio, Persuasion and American Political Behavior. Columbia U Press, ISBN 0-231-11807-4

Chilton, Paul. 2004. Analysing Political Discourse: Theory and Practice. Routledge

Diamond, Sara. 1995. Roads to dominion: Right-wing movements and political power in the United States. Guilford.

Edsall, Thomas.2007. Building Red America: The New Conservative Coalition and the Drive for Permanent Power. Basic Books. ISBN 10: 0-465-01816-1

Mickelthwait, John. and Adrian Woolridge, 2004. The Right Nation: Conservative Power in America. Penguin. ISBN 0-14-303539-8

Lakoff, George. 2002. Moral Politics: How Liberals and Conservatives Think. University of Chicago Press. ISBN 0-226-46771-6.

Pierson, Paul and Skocpol, Theda, eds. 2007. The Transformation of American Politics:

Activist Government and the Rise of Conservativism. Princeton University Press.

Articles and Book Chapters:

All other readings will be available or, in the case of library resources, linked on Blackboard under "course documents."

Blackboard:

You will hand in your transcripts, journal entries and recorded segments on Blackboard. The course site will also have links to streaming broadcasts, transcription conventions, transcription software, assignment guidelines and the course schedule.

7. Topics, Deadlines and Schedule:

Because the course is really a research team, much of your training will be sensitive to the sorts of issues that arise organically from our data. Thus, I may tailor latter aspects of the syllabus around particular issues that arise. Similarly, depending on how quickly or slowly we make our way through material, some readings may be moved to "recommended" status or lecture topics may be dropped altogether. Please check Blackboard announcements (and your email) for updated syllabi; I will also announce changes in class.

Unless otherwise noted, readings are required.

Topics and readings subject to revision.
